Cory C. Garone

Regulatory Policy Consultant

Cory's main focus is helping clients pilot the ever-changing regulatory environment with an emphasis on how new technologies interact with the existing regulatory paradigm. Among other things, Cory's expertise focuses on emerging telecommunications technologies and policies such as small cell wireless legislation and regulation, DAS, IoT, privacy, and net neutrality.

Cory monitors rule changes, docket activity, and legislative activity in all 50 states, providing in-depth, tailored research on regulatory issues. His responsibilities include generating the regulatory and legal content of Inteserra's publications and services. Cory contributes to the popular Inteserra Regulatory Mix and Blog. He also authors Briefings and special reports and assists in making client comments and documents more articulate.

Cory joined Inteserra with extensive experience in the areas of quality control, legal, and regulatory compliance in the financial services industry with a demonstrated history of developing and implementing regulatory compliance programs. Cory most recently led a team of quality control and compliance analysts focused on procedures following government agency requirements.

In his free time, Cory enjoys taking his family to local theme parks and enjoying some of Florida's many state parks.

Cory earned his Juris Doctor from the Barry University School of Law and a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Central Florida.
